A great American celebrity has just passed away in the person of Ruth Goschen, Barnum' well-known giant. It was thought that he was about 70 years age, and at any rate he mus! exceptionally tall people are never long livers. And in a general way a showman fights shy of aged giants, as the infirmities of age detract from his appearance. A bent giant does not look so imposing as a straight-limbed vigorous youngster; but grey hairs are not only a glory but a source of profit to the dwarf. 'Ruth must have been an exception, however, in more ways than one. He kept on increasing his bulk till the time of his death, when he weighed 6001bs., and his appearance was enhanced by his fatal disease, which was dropsy.

> According to the latest official report from America, the population of the United States numbers no fewer than 61.702,000 souls. The first noteworthy increase in the number of the population of the States took place between the years 1860 and 1870, when there was an influx of seven millions of persons added to the normal population; again, between the years 1871 and 1880 the addition to the indwellers of the States |was quite 12 millions. The decade from 1880 to 1890 bids fair, according to present statistics, to surpass all previous estimates, as the addition is expected to reach no fewer than 15 millions: thus more than doubling the numbers of 20 years ago. Up to the year 1883 the number of persons of different nationalities who, from many causes, had ceased to find a foothold upon their native soil was given as follows: -Of Englishmen in the United States there are 114,000 | Germans, 110,000; Italians, 46,000; of Norwegians there are 18,000; Swedes, 51,000; of Austrians, 20,000; and of Bohemians, 14,000 souls. The number of Frenchmen who have emigrated to the States is comparatively small, and the major part of these went on to La Plata.
